Test1

— All computer codes must be in Python.

1. Extract the top 12 most common words in the text 'JunkF' (on Moodle) excluding stopwords.
2. Add the custom stopwords 'NIL' and 'JUNK' in spaCy and remove the stopwords in the following simple text. Then print the obtained tokens of the text :
   text : " Jonas was a JUNK great guy NIL Adam was evil NIL Martha JUNK was more of a fool"
3. Extract the usernames from the email addresses present in the text below :
   text : "The new registrations are jacques01@gmail.com , elixir101@icloud.com. Please send your work to jacques_bahi@univ-fcomte.fr"
4. Identify and extract a list of all organizations/Companies mentioned in the given news article :
   text : "Google has released it's new model which has got attention of everyone. Amazon is planning to expand into Food delivery, thereby giving competition . Apple is coming up with new iphone model. Flipkart will have to catch up soon."
5. Display the named entities present in the given text along with their categories using spacy
   Text : " Walter was arrested yesterday at Brooklyn for murder. The suspicions and fingerprints pointed to Walter and his friend Pinkman . He is from Paris"
6. Detect all the Laptop names present in the given document :
   text : "For my offical use, I prefer MacBook. For gaming purposes, I love Sony and for computing Nvidia is the best"
7. Give all the approaches to convert texts to vectors and explain the advantages and advantages of each.